LASTING POWERS OF ATTORNEY (LPAs)

What happens when I can't make decisions for myself?

Many of us would like to plan for a time when we need help making decisions and looking after our affairs. A stroke, dementia, Alzheimer's, heart attack, or a severe accident can leave us dependent upon others to help make crucial choices in our lives. Or we may need to give someone decision-making power for us if, say, we're going to be in hospital or abroad for a time and can't easily carry out decisions for ourselves. To plan for the future, you can create an LPA. An LPA is a simple way for you to choose someone you trust to make decisions for you. LPAs can be a lot less expensive than other ways for people to make decisions on your behalf and can make things much easier for other people in your life than the alternatives.

What would happen if I don't create a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA)?

- You will no longer be able to decide who makes decisions for you and looks after your affairs (you can only make your LPA while you still have mental capacity).
- People you don't know will end up making crucial decisions for you instead – such as where you live, whether to accept medical treatment to keep you alive, what you eat and wear, and about your property and your finances.
- Your spouse, children or friends will have to go to court to make decisions on your behalf – which will be a lot more expensive and time-consuming than making an LPA now.

If you still have mental capacity, LPAs are a simple and legally robust way of giving someone you trust the power to make decisions for you – temporarily or for a longer time.

Spring and Laughter

In the preceding months we have been lucky to have had some excellent talks. One on the Newport Ship by Dr Toby Jones and one of our members gave a talk about the beginnings of modern-day medical research, both of which were highly informative and enjoyable. We also enjoyed a 'Soup and Pancake' charity evening, the proceeds of which are going to Blood Bikes our charity this year.

So, our brains have been tickled and our tummies filled, so what next? As Easter approaches all our thoughts turn to Spring, the blossom, flowers and of course longer, warmer and hopefully drier days and the meeting before Easter is often some kind of flower arranging, whether it be a demonstration by an accomplished person or members trying to fill an eggcup in an artistic fashion, not this year.

As I was musing about this article, I came across a quotation by Victor Hugo and I quote, "Laughter is the sun that drives winter from the human face." It occurred to me as I read it that it really summed up our meeting at Easter on many levels.

Our Easter meeting should be an evening of fun, the committee decided, a chance for our members to take part in the events. What events, after all Easter, for Christian folk is a festival covering the whole range of emotions and it might seem a little frivolous to have a 'fun evening' for our meeting but how uplifting to see members having fun and laughing at absurd games.

Nothing like churning out some old favourites for our members and of course it's an opportunity to introduce our newer members to them. The evening began with a 'rabbit drive' which is really Beetle only we use a rabbit instead. As always small prizes are given to those who complete a rabbit first. So, it was heads down and total concentration in the hope that you might be the lucky beneficiary of a small egg.

River Severn

The River Severn is Britain's longest river from source to tidal waters about 180 miles (290 km) long, with the Severn estuary adding some 40 miles (64 km) to its total length. The Severn rises on the northeastern slopes of Plynlimon in the Cambrian Mountains, at an altitude of 2,001 feet (610 m) and then follows a semicircular course basically southward. The estuary widens gradually between South Wales and Somerset and eventually becomes the Bristol Channel.

Since the destruction of the railway bridge between Sharpness and Lydney in the late 1960s rail traffic has been serviced by the Severn Tunnel, 15 miles (24 km) further downstream.

The Severn Bridge, an impressive suspension bridge was opened in 1966 by Queen Elizabeth II. For thirty years, the bridge carried the M4 motorway. It was granted Grade I listed status in 1999. It replaced the 137 year-old Aust Ferry.

An increase in traffic led to the construction of the Second Severn Crossing (renamed the Prince of Wales Bridge in 2018), which opened in 1996 and now carries the M4 motorway.

On a cold October day we walked over the old Severn Bridge, starting from the Wye Valley Link Road, A466 just off Junction 2 of the M48. We only managed to get to the middle of the main span but we enjoyed watching the Severn Rescue boat practicing their manoeuvres. The walk was well worth the effort.

Boost your pension savings

Planning to achieve your retirement goals sooner

But, for many different reasons, planning for retirement is a commonly overlooked aspect of personal financial planning and this can often lead to anxiety as your retirement age approaches. We have provided five ways to boost your pension savings and help you achieve your retirement goals sooner.

REVIEW YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS

Sometimes the simplest solutions are the most effective. If you want to boost your retirement savings, the simplest solution is to increase your contributions. You may think you cannot afford to, but even a slight increase can make a big difference. For those lucky enough to receive a pay rise in line with inflation every year, increasing your pension contributions by just 1% could add thousands to your eventual pension pot. The reason why a relatively small increase in pension contributions can result in such a large increase in the value of your pension pot is because of the power of compounding. The earlier you invest your money, the more you benefit from the effects of compounding. Adding more money to your pension pot by increasing your contributions just makes the compounding effect even better.

REVIEW YOUR STRATEGY

A missed opportunity for many pension holders is failing to choose how their pension is invested. Some people leave this decision in the hands of their workplace or pension provider. Many pension providers will give you several options for investment strategies. If you are in the default option, you could achieve higher returns with a different strategy (though this will usually mean taking on more investment risk). Note that this may not be appropriate in all circumstances, particularly if you are close to retirement.

KNOW YOUR ALLOWANCES

When you save in a pension for your retirement, the government adds tax relief on top of the money you contribute, helping you to grow your savings faster. However, there is a limit to the amount of contributions you can claim tax relief on each year, which is called your 'annual allowance'. It is currently £60,000 (tax year 2024/25), but in some cases may be lower. If you want to contribute more than your annual allowance into your pension in one tax year (for example, if you have received a windfall and want to put it aside for the future), it is worth knowing that you can use any unused allowance from up to three previous years. So, if you have £10,000 of unused allowance in each of the past three years, that is another £30,000 you can claim tax relief on this year. The tax relief on this amount would be at least £7,500, depending on your tax band.

TRACE LOST PENSIONS

Usually, starting a job with a new employer means starting a new pension, when that happens, some people may overlook the pension they had with their last employer. As a result, many people have pensions with previous employers that they have lost track of – and rediscovering them can give a huge boost to your retirement savings. Look through any documentation you still have from your past employers to see if you can find your pension or policy number. If you cannot, you can contact the provider anyway and they should be able to find your pension by using other details. If you are not sure who the provider is, start by asking your previous employer.

WILL YOU ACHIEVE THE RETIREMENT YOU DESERVE?

When the future is unclear, the thought of retirement may well feel more daunting than exciting. We will advise you on how to build the wealth you need to achieve the retirement you deserve.

Here we go… Spring has well and truly sprung!

Are you thinking about dusting off the trainers and pounding the pavements, or starting back to an exercise class to burn off the Easter Calories? Well, I'm here to tell you to modify, adapt and start slowly. All too quickly we find that family life interrupts our flow in health and fitness and when we take a break we envisage just bouncing back. But as we age, those niggles, injuries and complaints always creep back in, especially if we start too quickly or push to the limit.
Well, those niggles and injuries, don't have to hold you back and all you need to do is listen to your body, be patient and start slowly.

PBF Fitness
Pretty Bloomin Fabbas Fitness

Start the couch to 5km programme if it helps, even if you've completed a 5km previously. Speak to the instructor before you begin an exercise class and explain you've just started back; the class can be adapted for you. Discuss your options with a health and fitness professional such as Physiotherapist, they can advise you what will work and what to avoid?
What's worse, starting and failing in the first attempt, because you exhausted yourself, or going for a 15min walk, enjoying it, achieving something and looking forward to the next session.

Don't set yourself up to fail, set yourself up for success and your summer body will thank you for it. If you're ever stuck and not sure where to start, please feel free to get in touch. Karla. 07791 217306

Burry Port

People in Burry Port made a living from farming and fishing before the industrial revolution brought the railways and collieries to the area. With the closure of all the mines at Cwm Mawr in 1917 the railways up the valley were lifted. Pembrey and Burry Port railway station remains with regular services east via Swansea and Cardiff to London and west into Pembrokeshire.

Carmarthen Bay Power Station was built on the north shore of the Burry Estuary. Work started on its construction in April 1947 and power was first generated on 28th June 1953. At this time the plant employed around 500 people and during its 31 years of operation the three stacks became a local landmark. The power station ceased generating in 1984 and was demolished in the early 1990s.

Today the harbour consists of an impressive marina catering for small leisure craft. It is the third largest town in Carmarthenshire. Burry Port and Pembrey lies on the Millennium Coastal Path and is very popular with ramblers, offering over 25 miles of walkways, bridleways, and cyclists with the National Cycle Network.

When we visited last year, we enjoyed a delicious coffee and cake at the quaint Harbour Light Tearooms.

It's Fun to Get Involved with a Group like The Twmbarlwm Society

The Hot-Cross-Bun Walk 2023

On the morning of Good Friday I was all tucked up nicely in bed and the weather forecast was not good for the day ahead. But with a moan and a groan I dragged myself out to go collect a load of Hot-Cross-Buns because that's what we had promised to do.

My wife was to butter and jam the buns and we were to take them up Twmbarlwm to give out to what we hoped would be crowds of people on the annual pilgrimmage walking up there – because that's what we, the Twmbarlwm Society, had promised to do.

Okay it was an effort to get started but, long story short, by the end of the day I and a small band of helpers had a fabulous day meeting up with all sorts of people, encouraging them up the steep slopes, chatting about when they did this as kids, swapping stories and simply enjoying the great outdoors and admiring the views.

It was a great day and well worth the effort we had all put into it – we were weather beaten and worn out when we got home, but with that warm smug feeling of a job well done – and that basically is what getting involved in a local society is all about.

The point of my story is that I speak to many people who help run various groups – from Environmental to Historical Groups or Scout Troops and Kiddies' Football Clubs to Church Restoration or Community Societies – and they all talk about the difficulty they have in persuading people to get involved. The good work of these organisations is often mentioned on these pages and social media.

Unfortunately their threads are often followed by the comments "… why doesn't somebody do something about it?" or "… why didn't so-and-so group stop it happening?", written by people who always expect somebody else to act.

Many groups start with great intentions amid a flurry of public interest and plenty of people turn out to support the cause initially. But once the group is established too many slink away, never to be involved again.

Some groups start because of some local controversy, but even when that issue seems resolved the group often needs to stay together to ensure the problem doesn't recur or a new topic becomes a concern.

The Twmbarlwm Society is a typical example of that and over the years we have become a society whose influence is respected – and I know we have a few battles on the horizon we will need to be involved in.

We are a non-political group and use our collective voice to influence how the landscape and environment of the area is managed and used for the benefit of the surrounding community.

Judging by the numbers who join us at our events there is no lack of interest in what we stand for – and I hear similar reports from other groups – but when it comes to attending meetings, organising events or helping with admin, then volunteers are thin on the ground.

These organisations I'm talking about are largely run by older folk yet we are all desperate to get some younger blood involved.

So come on, all you community spirited people, get involved, use your skills to help a cause that interests you. You will meet interesting people, improve things for the community and most of all, have some fun and feel good about it.

Newport u3a

Katherine Hawkins, the Age Friendly Policy Officer at Newport City council, recently made a visit to Newport u3a that is situated at the Dolman Theatre.

Having seen how our organisation provides an inclusive and friendly environment offering over 40 active, social and cultural groups for the retired, she agreed it would be beneficial for our u3a to be involved and our members Julie Kennedy and Jackie Kerr volunteered to represent us.

Katherine observed our Choir rehearsing and talked to our Theatre Group regarding what Age Friendly meant to them. Sitting in our Cafe area, she also chatted with members as they completed her survey relating to their knowledge and ideas for making Newport an Age Friendly City.

u3a learn, laugh, live

If you would like to belong to an Age-Friendly organisation, come and try us out for two weeks. Newport u3a meets Wednesdays to Fridays at 9.45-15.00 during term times. Contact Angela Robins on 07983 130541 or www.u3asites.org.uk/newportsewales

Gwerinwyr Gwent Diary

In early March 2019 a group of French Canadian students from Laval near Montreal was visiting the UK, working from an appeal put out by the Welsh Folk Dance Society, a visit to Newport's Welsh Medium School was arranged by GG member Barbara Griffiths. The event was called 'A Flavour of Wales' and GG was involved by giving some dance displays and demonstrating easy dances they could join in with.

This time Barbara was contacted directly by the Canadian agent, Michel Paquet, but as she was very busy and the last visit involved a huge amount of work, she advised him to contact WFDS to see if another of their member groups would like to arrange it. Not a single group replied, so Barbara felt obliged to take it on, but put together a much scaled down programme. There would be no school involvement this time, and as the group of 50, 14-16 year olds plus five teachers was coming from Heathrow via London, Stonehenge and Bath, just a couple of hours at our practice venue (the Graig Community Hall in Bassaleg) was squeezed in before they moved on to their hotel in Cardiff for a four night stay.

Barbara gave them short talks about Wales in between our dance displays and taught a few useful words of Welsh. They had a drink with Welsh cakes as refreshment before joining in with a couple of easy dances. They took to it enthusiastically, and these days it is refreshing to see boys as well as girls dancing together without self-consciousness or embarrassment. They would have liked to do more but the evening was cut short by the restrictions on their coach driver's hours.

Surprisingly this year we had no bookings around St David's Day, so the next event was our annual visit to Llanover – on Sunday 24th March. The opening of the gardens as part of the National Garden Scheme for charity had been in doubt two weeks before because of all the rain we have had (parking is in one of the fields), but fortunately it went ahead and the afternoon was lovely. There were over 450 visitors which raised a huge amount for NGS charities, plus the local church benefitted from the sale of refreshments. The gardens as always looked lovely with all the daffodils and magnolias out in bloom.

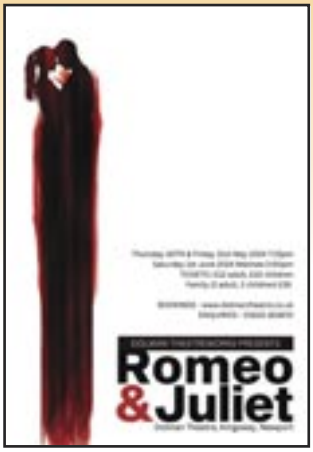

Our next outing will be Saturday 11th May at the Tredegar House Folk Festival. There are free dance displays in two marquees between 1-5pm both Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Gwerinwyr Gwent is always seeking new members, and beginners or experienced dancers/musicians are very welcome. Practice night (numbers permitting) is Thursday 8-10pm at the Graig Community Hall (opposite the Ruperra PH).
