WHY DO WE NEED A PROPERTY PROTECTION TRUST?

Most people hope that their estate will pass on to their children and grandchildren eventually. But this will not happen for many, unless careful arrangements have been made to protect their assets from being taken towards the end of their life to pay for care home fees.

The solution to help protect your estate is a Will incorporating a Property Protection Trust (PPT). A testamentary PPT can only be executed whilst both partners remain alive. Upon death of the first partner, their Will specifies that their share of the property is placed into trust and names the ultimate beneficiary of this share, normally the children and grandchildren of the deceased. The surviving partner, under the terms of the Trust, has the unequivocal right to remain living in the property for the rest of their life. On the death of the second partner the Trust comes to an end and the property passes to the beneficiaries. As the surviving partner does not own the deceased's share of the property it is fully protected for the beneficiaries, so if the surviving partner requires care, or even remarries, this share of the children's inheritance is protected. This last point can be of particular interest to couples who have come together but have children from different partners. A PPT can help each person in a relationship ensure that their children inherit their share of the property, while giving their surviving partner the ability to live in the property for the rest of their life. If the surviving partner wants to move to another property, they can still sell the property and the proceeds be used to purchase a new property; the terms of the trust remain over the new property.

Westminster Law will assess your current circumstances and arrange the trust that will provide the best protection for you, your family and your assets.

Twmbarlwm - The Challenges of 2024 and Beyond

The beauty of the landscape as we all prefer to see

Gosh — where did that year go? It's already time for me to look back on the achievements and failures of 2024 – a job that requires me to delve into my library of photographs to act as an aide-memoire.

As in so many previous years my photos show that we've had another challenging year on the mountain and yet it is still a beautiful landscape with exquisite views. I'd rather not dwell on the negativity shown by some of the photos, but use the examples as a rallying call to ask visitors to be vigilant, report incidents you find on your wanderings and support the Society in any way you can. (Visit our website to see 2024 in photos).

Damage to signage costs us in time and money

In my collection there are far too many photos of litter and fly-tipping – a practice that is unsightly and a serious environmental hazard but it is a nationwide problem that the Society tackles as best we can with KWT and our monthly litter picks.

Many photos illustrate the damage done to the landscape by selfish off-road vehicle users – another widespread problem that we try to control with help from the police and local authorities.

The Cwmcarn Forest Drive's future is at stake

There are photos of general vandalism such as the cutting of fences, fire-starting or defacing signs – this is called anti-social behaviour because the perpetrators simply don't realise the harm they are doing to the pockets and good honest work done by the community to benefit everyone now and into the future.

The Twmbarlwm Society attempts to address these problems, and more, with support of the Commoners, Cadw, the Land Owners and local Authorities and we anticipate many more challenges in the future.

For instance there are plans afoot to erect over 20 wind turbines on Mynydd Maen which will surely be a blot on our precious landscape; and The Cwmcarn Forest Drive is rumoured to be further developed in the hands of private investors – a potential major worry if not handled sympathetically.

We repair breaks in fences where we can

Both these projects will have a profound impact on Twmbarlwm and its iron-age hill fort and we intend to make sure the people's voices are heard in the process. With such a wide remit of responsibilities we could really do with more willing volunteers and expertise to take the Twmbarlwm Society forward.

We organise walks and other events throughout the year so watch our website and Facebook page for details.

Local author Dale Bradford discusses his new novel, The Time-Travelling Estate Agent, in which Cwmbran - and its iconic Boating Lake - plays a pivotal role...

Have you ever regretted something you didn't do, rather than something you did do? Eric Meek has. He believes the direction of his whole life changed in July 1976, following an incident at Cwmbran Boating Lake.

Fast forward to 2019 and Eric is now the proprietor of estate agency Barrington Meek, with a showroom in Cwmbran Town Centre, when he discovers a property which boasts a truly unique garage conversion. Instead of the more customary home office or gym, it contains a hole in space-time that has been developed into a traversable portal.

A by-product of the homeowner's attempts to emulate the work of pioneering electrical engineer Nikola Tesla, the portal allows movement between 2019 and July 1976.

Presented with a chance to right the wrongs of the past, Eric's adventures in time find him caught up in a decades-old missing persons case while he attempts to improve the lives of those close to him, including his long-dead father.

"The Time-Travelling Estate Agent is the story of a first love, a second chance, and a third-age redemption," says author Dale Bradford, who grew up in Cwmbran. "I've always been fascinated by the concept of time travel, even though the greatest scientific minds maintain that it's impossible. Fifty years ago, my iPhone was impossible though, and the story grew from the idea of me meeting my teenage self, and the people I knew back then, and demonstrating my iPhone's capabilities to them."

Will readers learn anything about the property business from reading the novel?

"They might," says Bradford, "I did when researching it, but the book is pure escapism and offers a few hours respite from the depressing global news cycle. Its title suggests it's sci-fi, and there are indeed elements of it, but it also blends a mismatched romance with a murder mystery, while offering gentle nods in the direction of Groundhog Day and 50 First Dates."

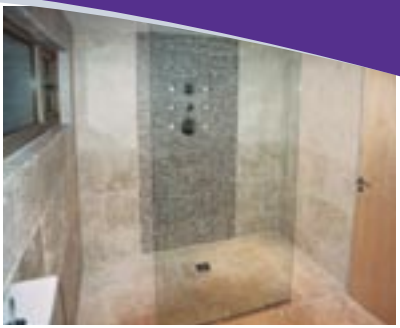

The Time-Travelling Estate Agent is available now on Amazon.co.uk in ebook (£1.99), paperback (£12.99), and hardback (£16.99) and it is free to read on Kindle Unlimited. The first four chapters can also be read online instantly via Amazon's Read Sample facility. Go on, treat yourself...

When Cwmbran estate agent Eric Meek discovers a hole in space-time that allows movement between the present and 3rd July 1976 – the best, and worst, day of his young life – he is determined to right the wrongs of the past. But will Eric change history? Or will history change Eric? The Time-Travelling Estate Agent is available now on Amazon.co.uk in ebook (£1.99), paperback (£12.99), and hardback (£16.99) editions.

Swan
RESCUE

The Grand Tour

Gloucester, The Knap, Tredegar Park and Amroth

Long gone are the days when we could look forward to a pause in calls to rescue a swan in distress. Autumn rescues are dominated by juveniles getting into difficulties as they attempt to leave their parent's territory. This call was received from a member of staff at Tredegar Park (National Trust) as we crossed the Severn Bridge on route to de-tackle an adult swan in Gloucester Docks, from which, for obvious reasons, there was no turning back.

The problem to which our attention was being drawn is a fairly common occurrence – a juvenile swan was stuck behind the railings at the southern end of the lake, trying and obviously failing to return to the water. 'Well, isn't there anyone else who can help?' Shock, horror...No! But the area will be visited as soon as possible… the following morning.

It is important to note the day had already been seriously compromised as a result of a call at 0840 hrs from The Knap at Barry made by a very committed staff member from the Vale of Glamorgan Council who had noticed an ailing swan with what turned out to be an ear infection, and which we had collected and bedded down at HQ.

So, all that was Friday. As promised, early on Saturday morning, with the intention of hospitalising the previous day's casualty at a sanctuary at Amroth, and so loading the swan into the car a visit was paid to Jamaica Walk, i.e. on the landward side of the railings at the end of Tredegar Park Lake. A thorough search was carried out; the only sign of a juvenile swan was a small number of feathers scattered across the dingle which abuts the outfall from the lake. That was searched thoroughly, but nothing further was found. Neither here nor more widely. There seemed little option but to conclude the swan had managed to find another way out. Time therefore to set off for Amroth with the poorly bird from The Knap.

A comfort stop was needed which was provided by calling at Cardiff West Services. In that brief interval two calls were received in quick succession from participants in the Tredegar Park Park Run; they had spotted the missing swan hard up against the railings, and deeply 'submerged' in brambles and other vegetation. There was even a question as to whether or not the swan was still alive. Immediate call for a high-speed return to Tredegar Park where one of the callers, Emma, to whom we shall for ever be grateful, was waiting to help.

Over the years, we have learnt to carry not only tools to deal with embedded fishhooks but also a selection of pruning implements; these were absolutely essential for getting the swan out of his predicament. All things considered he wasn't in bad shape except for a significant wound to his tail. The earlier discovery of feathers now made sense; the swan had been attacked by a dog, which, quite clearly had not been under control.

And so, now with two ailing swans on board, we set off, at the second attempt to provide treatment for both casualties. Mercifully, the injury to the swan which is the main character in this story was not as bad as it might so easily have been. He was considered fit for release and was given a new home when he was released onto The Fendrod Lake on the outskirts of Swansea almost three weeks to the day following his failed attempt to leave Tredegar Park.

However, we will always keep any increases to the absolute minimum as we take pride in being able to offer you great, homemade and artisan cakes, bakes and savouries at a very competitive price matching or bettering the high street.

As a reflection over 2024:

- Our lovely bara brith won the Great British Food Award gold award – the second time in 3 years. It is proving popular but we are struggling to keep up with demand.
- The Tea Room came runner up in 2024 South East Wales Business Awards held in December. Thank you for all those votes. It really brightened our year.
- We served so many afternoon teas last year. Many people choosing a venue for baby showers chose our teas and we loved serving you all. We especially love seeing the babies growing as they come in with parents.
- We hosted our monthly (from March) artisan markets. We struggled with fresh meat and vegetables again last year, so we are redoubling our efforts to bring you those in 2025.
- We supported Sparkles Appeal, our charity of the year by collecting on markets visitors' behalf in excess of £1000 during 2024. This year we will once again be looking for a local charity to support.
- We provided five out of the six planned street food Friday evenings (the weather put paid to September unfortunately). This is where we provide music on the bandstand between 6.30pm and 9.30pm. Given that we had few takers of brass bands and choirs on the bandstand during our weekends last year, we may change streetfood to a Sunday afternoon in 2025.
- We hosted 10 wedding ceremonies and/or receptions and whilst a funeral is a very sad occasion, we tried our best to make the 6 we hosted, as comforting as possible.
- We hosted Louby Lou story trails and their Halloween play. We also created a fun trail in the conservatory again to delight youngsters.
- Our Christmas theme was popular again, as the Snowman and the Snow Dog. Each year we try to play with a theme. I wonder if anyone has any ideas for 2025?
- Thank you to all who supported the pay forward scheme this year – 'Buy a drink for a stranger'. We know that quite a number of people took advantage of that and expressed their gratitude for your kindness.
- We supported Gwent Wildlife Trust and other charities by offering opportunities for pop ups.

Thank you once again for supporting us and we hope to see you as we continue to open every day between 9.00am and 4.00pm.

Very best wishes Jan, Paul and the Team

The object of sudoku is to insert the missing numbers in the boxes to satisfy just one condition: each row, column and 3x3 box must contain the digits 1 through to 9 exactly once. This can be done by applying logic – you do not have to guess.

The River Gavenny

The River Gavenny is a short river in Monmouthshire. It rises 1 mile (1.6 km) southwest of the village of Llanvihangel Crucorney from springs near Penyclawdd Court, supplemented by springs in Blaen-Gavenny Wood and tributary streams there and within the Woodland Trust-owned Great Triley Wood. It flows south for about 4 miles (6.4 km) to its confluence with the River Usk towards the eastern end of Castle Meadows at Abergavenny.

The river is crossed by road bridges north of Mardy at Triley Mill and at St Teilo's Church and also, to the east of Mardy by those carrying Nantgavenny Lane, Hereford Road (B4521) and Tredilion Road. The Nantgavenny Lane crossing carries both route 42 of the National Cycle Network and the Beacons Way over the river. The lowermost crossings are at Lower Monk Street (B4233), Monmouth Road (A40) and Mill Street bridges east of Abergavenny town centre. Next to the river there is a stone circle at Swan Meadows, it may look prehistoric but dates from 1912. It was erected for Gorsedd of Bards ceremonies relating to the National Eisteddfod held at Bailey Park in August 1913. In 2001 the Gorsedd stones were moved to Swan Meadows from their original position at the Grove, Monmouth Road. Also, in the bus station next to the river is a Bikers meeting place. The Oasis Snack Bar has been a haunt for years. It welcomes hundreds of Bikers at weekends.

LIFE GOALS

Are you building the future you want?

Creating a financial roadmap for the future you want involves a close analysis of your personal finances and an assessment of other building blocks. Lifestyle matters look at how to balance work and leisure, how to make smart choices for the future and many other items regarding how to help you enjoy the journey.

'How do you ensure the plans you make are going to get you to where you want to be financially?'

'How can you achieve the life you want?' Your financial roadmap should provide you with clarity about your future. It should detail every aspect of your vision – your hopes, fears, and goals. It should also describe exactly how your future will look and help you to know exactly where you are headed and when you are likely to arrive.

Life can change – the birth of a child, the death of a loved one, the loss of a job, a major purchase – which will readjust your financial roadmap. At these major life events, it is important to chart a new course to ensure you meet your financial, lifestyle and retirement goals.

TAKE SOME TIME AND ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS:

- Can I sleep comfortably knowing I will have enough money for my future?
- Do I have the security of knowing where I am heading financially?
- Am I going to be able to maintain my current lifestyle once I stop working?
- Do I feel empowered financially to live the life I want today and tomorrow?
- Have I made sufficient financial plans to live the life I want?
- Do I have a complete understanding of my financial position?
- What is 'my number' to make my current and future lifestyle secure?

MAKING WISE FINANCIAL DECISIONS

Part of this process is to understand 'your number' – in other words, the amount of money you will ultimately need to ensure complete peace of mind in knowing your future lifestyle is secure and making sure you do not run out of money before you run out of life. The process starts by identifying your goals for the future and following up by setting a timeline for achieving them.

If you do not know where you are going, how will you know when you get there? This is very true about financial goals. You need to set financial goals to help you make wise financial decisions, and as a reward for your efforts. Goals should be clear, concise, detailed and written down. Unwritten goals are just wishes.

HOW TO MAKE SMART CHOICES FOR THE FUTURE

To achieve all your goals, you will need a plan, and the New Year is a great time to re-look at your plans. Starting from assets you already have available; you will need to determine how much more you need to accumulate and when you will need it. Do not neglect to consider that the price of your goal items might increase as well.

WE ARE HERE AND READY TO LISTEN

We are here to make this process as simple as possible for you so that you can have peace of mind knowing that everything is taken care of. When it comes to planning for your future and that of your family, you will want to be sure that you have everything covered – and that is where we can help. To discuss your future plans, speak to us on 01633 840000 to arrange a no-obligation review of your finances.
