Welcome!

In these difficult financial times, it's often hard to keep focused on our business goals. Now is not the time the to stop advertising, it is actually more important than ever to advertise your business and remind potential customers about your products and services.

If you are interested in advertising your business in the Directory, please contact us to find out about the very competitive advertising rates. You will always deal with us directly, like many of the businesses that advertise in this magazine, we are a small, independent business and fully appreciate how much your business means to you, especially in these uncertain times.

It's always good to try new things and aspire to improve our lives, whether it's losing the extra pounds we put on over the festive season, attempting to become fitter, volunteering or helping a local charity, starting a new hobby or even starting a business. Trying something new and having different experiences often makes us feel focused and happier in life.

Wishing you all a 2025 filled with kindness, compassion, respect and gentleness.

WHY DO WE NEED A PROPERTY PROTECTION TRUST?

Most people hope that their estate will pass on to their children and grandchildren eventually. But this will not happen for many, unless careful arrangements have been made to protect their assets from being taken towards the end of their life to pay for care home fees.

The solution to help protect your estate is a Will incorporating a Property Protection Trust (PPT). A testamentary PPT can only be executed whilst both partners remain alive. Upon death of the first partner, their Will specifies that their share of the property is placed into trust and names the ultimate beneficiary of this share, normally the children and grandchildren of the deceased. The surviving partner, under the terms of the Trust, has the unequivocal right to remain living in the property for the rest of their life. On the death of the second partner the Trust comes to an end and the property passes to the beneficiaries. As the surviving partner does not own the deceased's share of the property it is fully protected for the beneficiaries, so if the surviving partner requires care, or even remarries, this share of the children's inheritance is protected. This last point can be of particular interest to couples who have come together but have children from different partners. A PPT can help each person in a relationship ensure that their children inherit their share of the property, while giving their surviving partner the ability to live in the property for the rest of their life. If the surviving partner wants to move to another property, they can still sell the property and the proceeds be used to purchase a new property; the terms of the trust remain over the new property.

Westminster Law will assess your current circumstances and arrange the trust that will provide the best protection for you, your family and your assets.

The Rebels Revolution Continues

The surge in participation in Women's and Girls Cricket continues at Rogerstone Welfare Cricket Club. Following their successes in the Southeast Wales Indoor Cricket Softball League last winter, the Rogie Rebels continue to excel.

Following their success in winning their outdoor league in 2023 the Rebels while not winning gave a good account of themselves in the higher division. The Rebels also participated in many Sunday Festivals both home and away

This autumn the Rebels entered 2 teams in the Southeast Wales Indoor Softball Autumn League, The Reds or A team in League A and the Greens or B team in League B. Both teams won their respective leagues and are now both in the A team for the Winter League. The 'derby' game was the first game of the Winter League just played at the time of writing and the outcome was a comfortable win for the Reds. The reds are Captained by Hayley Goward and the greens by Karen Woodsford with the Coordinator for the Rebels being Carmel Reed.

The Rebels Coach is Ella Reed (left) of Rogerstone and Cricket Wales. Ella has been with the club since she was 7 and also plays for Newport Women's team.

The Rebels look forward to yet more cricket in the Winter indoor League and the summer season. Three of our Ladies sit on the Club's executive Committee with valuable contributions.

In the future the Rebels are looking to bring in the younger element possibly via a girls team.

Happy New Year 2025

This is the time of year when resolutions spring to mind, personally I rarely make them as by the end of January I will have forgotten all about them or be struggling to maintain them. Thankfully, my outlook on resolutions is not always the case and certainly not where the WI is concerned.

The Women's Institute has always, from its inception, made resolutions, many of which have been successful in changing political opinion. I have selected just a few of the more influential suggestions as examples. The very first WI resolution was passed in 1918 at the NFWI's second Annual Meeting and called for a 'sufficient supply of convenient and sanitary houses.' In 1964, just ten years after researchers in the UK had established a link between smoking and lung cancer, the WI passed a resolution which called for measures 'to restrict the amount of smoking in public places.' The WI has been raising awareness around the impact of plastic on the environment since the 1960s and 1970s.

This year's resolutions are, as always, issues that with more exposure could either improve people's lives or improve the world in which we live. The first is 'Let's talk about incontinence,' millions of people, of all ages, suffer with bladder and bowel problems, this is a subject that sufferers often find embarrassing to talk about. The WI, the UK Health Secretary and the Welsh Health Secretary are being asked to raise public awareness, remove the stigma around incontinence and to help reduce the significant impact on people's lives.

The second resolution is 'Bystanders can be lifesavers.' This resolution points out the enormous number of cardiac arrests that occur each year and suggests that the public could with training, be confident, in delivering CPR and the use of defibrillators which could improve recovery statistics considerably.

The third resolution encourages us to 'Join the repair revolution,' this suggestion is targeting clothing and fabrics. Calling on WI members to promote clothing reuse and repair in their communities.

The fourth is to 'Eliminate landfill of medication packaging,' this due to its complexity, is not routinely recyclable through local authority collections, usually leading to disposal in landfills. Manufacturers are to be called upon to think about a more sustainable packaging.

Every member of the WI countrywide will get the opportunity to discuss and vote on these ideas, the one with most votes will be selected as our resolution of 2025 and hopefully WI's countrywide will find ways to bring pressure to bear on the powers that be to encourage change.

Feckless as I may be regarding my own resolutions, I do sincerely hope that the war torn parts of the world will think more about peace than war and manage to cease campaigns and find a peace to ensure no more innocent people are going to die.

Liz James

May I wish you all a happy, healthy and prosperous new year.

The New Year, a new start, what's your focus for 2025?

There's something exciting about the start of a New Year. Your chance to let go of the old and embrace the new. What does your new look like? More time for you? Becoming slightly selfish and finally starting a course you've always wanted to do? More time dedicated to reading? More time for walking, spending time with friends? Whatever you choose, make it more meaningful. Notice I mention more and not less in my options for goal setting. Why start your New Year with a negative?

This year try and think about a goal which is powerful, ambitious and creative and centre that goal around you. 90% of our goals we plan are all around taking away from our lives and decreasing the value we place on ourselves. Why is it always stop chocolate, stop alcohol, stop carbohydrates, the list goes on? Whilst I appreciate there is significant research to suggest that some of the actions will be beneficial, there is just as much research to suggest that living a life that is balanced, with 80% of our choices for health and 20% for the soul, is not only great for our body and mind, but for all of our inter-connected relationships we hold dear.

This year for 2025, when you think about what you really want for a brighter, happier 2025, maybe put yourself first? Think about adding value, not taking it away. Add fun and excitement to your plans, after all life is short and its time that we started living.

If you have trouble setting those goals, don't be afraid to get in touch, I'm always here to help, good luck. Karla 07791 217306

Twmbarlwm - The Challenges of 2024 and Beyond

The beauty of the landscape as we all prefer to see

Gosh — where did that year go? It's already time for me to look back on the achievements and failures of 2024 – a job that requires me to delve into my library of photographs to act as an aide-memoire.

As in so many previous years my photos show that we've had another challenging year on the mountain and yet it is still a beautiful landscape with exquisite views. I'd rather not dwell on the negativity shown by some of the photos, but use the examples as a rallying call to ask visitors to be vigilant, report incidents you find on your wanderings and support the Society in any way you can. (Visit our website to see 2024 in photos).

Damage to signage costs us in time and money

In my collection there are far too many photos of litter and fly-tipping – a practice that is unsightly and a serious environmental hazard but it is a nationwide problem that the Society tackles as best we can with KWT and our monthly litter picks.

Many photos illustrate the damage done to the landscape by selfish off-road vehicle users – another widespread problem that we try to control with help from the police and local authorities.

The Cwmcarn Forest Drive's future is at stake

There are photos of general vandalism such as the cutting of fences, fire-starting or defacing signs – this is called anti-social behaviour because the perpetrators simply don't realise the harm they are doing to the pockets and good honest work done by the community to benefit everyone now and into the future.

The Twmbarlwm Society attempts to address these problems, and more, with support of the Commoners, Cadw, the Land Owners and local Authorities and we anticipate many more challenges in the future.

For instance there are plans afoot to erect over 20 wind turbines on Mynydd Maen which will surely be a blot on our precious landscape; and The Cwmcarn Forest Drive is rumoured to be further developed in the hands of private investors – a potential major worry if not handled sympathetically.

Both these projects will have a profound impact on Twmbarlwm and its iron-age hill fort and we intend to make sure the people's voices are heard in the process. With such a wide remit of responsibilities we could really do with more willing volunteers and expertise to take the Twmbarlwm Society forward.

The object of sudoku is to insert the missing numbers in the boxes to satisfy just one condition: each row, column and 3x3 box must contain the digits 1 through to 9 exactly once. This can be done by applying logic – you do not have to guess.

Local author Dale Bradford discusses his new novel, The Time-Travelling Estate Agent, in which Cwmbran - and its iconic Boating Lake - plays a pivotal role...

Have you ever regretted something you didn't do, rather than something you did do? Eric Meek has. He believes the direction of his whole life changed in July 1976, following an incident at Cwmbran Boating Lake.

Fast forward to 2019 and Eric is now the proprietor of estate agency Barrington Meek, with a showroom in Cwmbran Town Centre, when he discovers a property which boasts a truly unique garage conversion. Instead of the more customary home office or gym, it contains a hole in space-time that has been developed into a traversable portal.

A by-product of the homeowner's attempts to emulate the work of pioneering electrical engineer Nikola Tesla, the portal allows movement between 2019 and July 1976.

Presented with a chance to right the wrongs of the past, Eric's adventures in time find him caught up in a decades-old missing persons case while he attempts to improve the lives of those close to him, including his long-dead father.

"The Time-Travelling Estate Agent is the story of a first love, a second chance, and a third-age redemption," says author Dale Bradford, who grew up in Cwmbran. "I've always been fascinated by the concept of time travel, even though the greatest scientific minds maintain that it's impossible. Fifty years ago, my iPhone was impossible though, and the story grew from the idea of me meeting my teenage self, and the people I knew back then, and demonstrating my iPhone's capabilities to them."

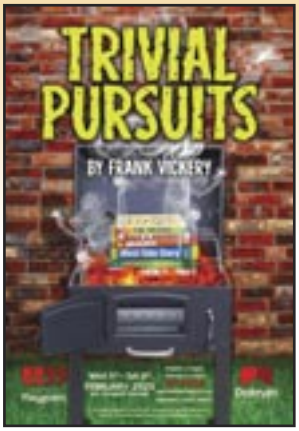

Will readers learn anything about the property business from reading the novel?

"They might," says Bradford, "I did when researching it, but the book is pure escapism and offers a few hours respite from the depressing global news cycle. Its title suggests it's sci-fi, and there are indeed elements of it, but it also blends a mismatched romance with a murder mystery, while offering gentle nods in the direction of Groundhog Day and 50 First Dates."

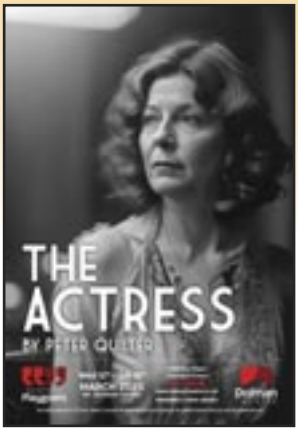

The Time-Travelling Estate Agent is available now on Amazon.co.uk in ebook (£1.99), paperback (£12.99), and hardback (£16.99) and it is free to read on Kindle Unlimited. The first four chapters can also be read online instantly via Amazon's Read Sample facility. Go on, treat yourself...

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Ten years ago in the autumn of 2014, 73 pupils from years seven, eight and nine of Bassaleg School were given the chance make some history themselves by naming the first ten streets of the Jubilee Park housing development.

The pupils were asked to research the geography, history and use their own local knowledge of the area before submitting their choice of street names that would help tell the story of our community. Originally the pupils came up with a list of over 180 names. A panel comprising of pupils, a deputy Headteacher from Bassaleg School, the chairperson of the Rogerstone historical society, and the deputy chairperson of Rogerstone Community Council gathered to select the final 10 names. To make sure all correct procedures were followed the Local Street Gazetteer was also in attendance.

In spite of having this extensive list of names to choose from, one very historic event had taken place in Rogerstone only a few weeks earlier that just could not be ignore. The visit to Mount Pleasant Primary School of President Barack Obama of the United States of America. So, the name Obama was added to the list.

This was not just a paper exercise because now if you walk the streets of the Jubilee Park housing development you will see that all these 10 names are in use around the site. Furthermore, along with the original 10 names selected by the pupils of Bassaleg School, nearly all the remaining street names on Jubilee Park come from the list provided by the pupils. I hope that those who took part in this project will remember what an important part they have played in recording the story of Rogerstone for those who come to be part of our community in the future.

Three other names from this project have stuck with me, one being Cloak that related to the camouflage used to protect the aluminium works during the war. The other two that will not appear on the street corners are: charity and family. However, my dearest hope is that they will be in the hearts and minds of the people who live in Jubilee Park.

EBBW CLOSE CLOS EBWY

1. The second most popular choice was Ebbw with the river flowing on the boundary of Jubilee Park.

ALCAN GROVE RHODFA ALCAN

2. The most popular choice was Alcan because this was the imposing building that was located on the site until it was demolished 08/02/2011.

FFORDD Y DDERWEN WELSH OAG WAY

3. The Welsh Oak public house was the last meeting place of Chartist leaders John Frost and Zephaniah Williams before their historic march on Newport.

NOVELIS ROAD HEOL NOVELIS

4. Novelis is a leading sustainable aluminium solutions provider and a world leader in aluminium rolling and recycling.

HEOL HURRICANE HURRICANE WAY

5. The wings for the Hurricane airplane, that inflicted 60% of the losses sustained by the Luftwaffe in the 2nd world war, were aluminium and produced on the site.

HEOL SPITFIRE SPITFIRE WAY

6. The wings of the Spitfire were also made of aluminium but the Spitfire was faster and was the preferred choice to take on the German Messerschmitt Bf 109 fighter.

GLOS COPE COPPER WAY

7. A copper works was erected 1772 however, no evidence was uncovered of an early copper works on the site during archaeological works prior to the redevelopment of Jubilee Park.

GLOS ALUMINIUM ALUMINIUM WAY

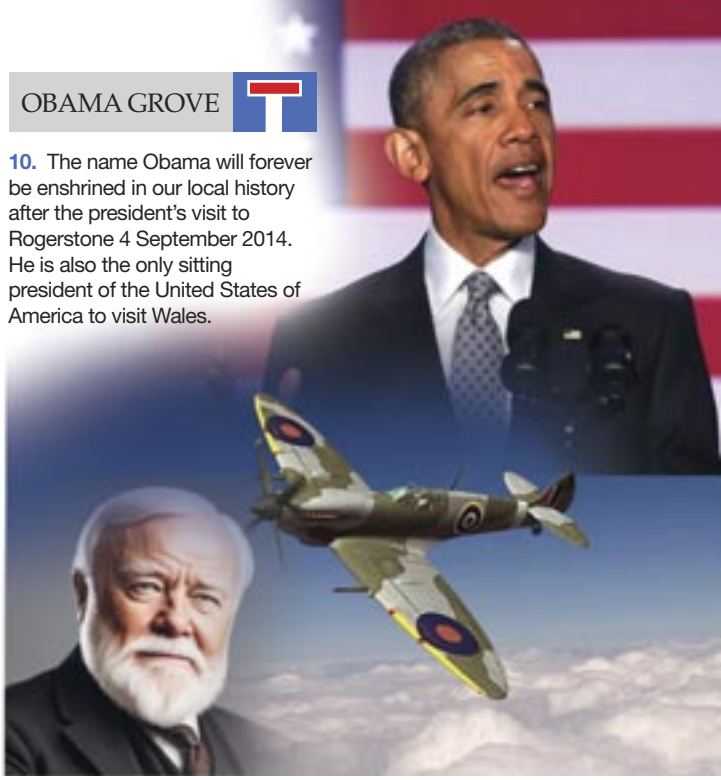

8. In 1939 The Northen Aluminium Company were approached by the Air Ministry to construct an aluminium factory. The factory was vital to the war effort producing wings for the Hurricane, Spitfire and Lancaster aeroplanes.

GLOS CARNEGIE CARNEGIE CLOSE

9. The name Carnegie relates to the library that is located just across from Jubilee Park. The library was donated by the Scottish, American philanthropist Andrew Carnegie and opened 4 November 1905. Clearly the pupils recognised this gift of knowledge.

OBAMA GROVE

10. The name Obama will forever be enshrined in our local history after the president's visit to Rogerstone 4 September 2014. He is also the only sitting president of the United States of America to visit Wales.

Newport u3a's member Hilary Lester is the organiser of the Newport Fundraising Group for Guide Dogs for the Blind. One of her projects is collecting foreign and British obsolete money from our members to raise money to train more puppies that will help give someone with sight loss the freedom to live the life they choose. We regularly see Hilary and her gorgeous dog Portia at our meetings and more recently another member Lesley Gore has acquired her companion named May.

Committee member and Convenor of the Table Tennis Group, Gwyn Havard, kindly offered to help increase the value of the donations. Periodically he does a valuation on the donations which Hilary accepts and then he sells the coins on eBay. To date they have raised over £300.

Belle Vue
Park & Tea Room

The Team at Belle Vue Tea Room would like to wish you all a very healthy, happy and prosperous New Year!

We have now completed six full years at Belle Vue Park. We are loving it and we hope you are happy with us. We want to continue giving you the best possible value for money in these trying times and we look forward to welcoming you rain or sunshine. We will be reviewing prices in April 2025 as we have been able to absorb much of the increases during the past year. However, we will always keep any increases to the absolute minimum as we take pride in being able to offer you great, homemade and artisan cakes, bakes and savouries at a very competitive price matching or bettering the high street.

As a reflection over 2024:

- Our lovely bara brith won the Great British Food Award gold award – the second time in 3 years. It is proving popular but we are struggling to keep up with demand.
- The Tea Room came runner up in 2024 South East Wales Business Awards held in December. Thank you for all those votes. It really brightened our year.
- We served so many afternoon teas last year. Many people choosing a venue for baby showers chose our teas and we loved serving you all. We especially love seeing the babies growing as they come in with parents.
- We hosted our monthly (from March) artisan markets. We struggled with fresh meat and vegetables again last year, so we are redoubling our efforts to bring you those in 2025.
- We supported Sparkles Appeal, our charity of the year by collecting on markets visitors' behalf in excess of £1000 during 2024. This year we will once again be looking for a local charity to support.
- We provided five out of the six planned street food Friday evenings (the weather put paid to September unfortunately). This is where we provide music on the bandstand between 6.30pm and 9.30pm. Given that we had few takers of brass bands and choirs on the bandstand during our weekends last year, we may change streetfood to a Sunday afternoon in 2025.
- We hosted 10 wedding ceremonies and/or receptions and whilst a funeral is a very sad occasion, we tried our best to make the 6 we hosted, as comforting as possible.
- We hosted Louby Lou story trails and their Halloween play. We also created a fun trail in the conservatory again to delight youngsters.
- Our Christmas theme was popular again, as the Snowman and the Snow Dog. Each year we try to play with a theme. I wonder if anyone has any ideas for 2025?
- Thank you to all who supported the pay forward scheme this year – 'Buy a drink for a stranger'. We know that quite a number of people took advantage of that and expressed their gratitude for your kindness.
- We supported Gwent Wildlife Trust and other charities by offering opportunities for pop ups.

Thank you once again for supporting us and we hope to see you as we continue to open every day between 9.00am and 4.00pm.

Very best wishes Jan, Paul and the Team

Phil Bessant Accountants has hit its target of £100,000 for St David's Hospice Care

The accountancy firm, based in Clytha Park Road, Newport, adopted St David's Hospice Care as its nominated charity and has completed a wide range of events to raise funds over many years.

The accountants initially set themselves a target of raising £5,000 but boosted this to raising £50,000 in five years. The target figure kept moving until £100,000 was set in stone as the magic figure Phil and his team wanted to raise.
Over the years, the team at Phil Bessant Accountants Ltd have staged Quiz Nights, Race Nights, Golf Day's, Sports Dinner's and even Phil being put in the cells under Newport Market for which he raised an incredible sum of over £10,000 to be released. A familiar home for some events has been the Fugitives Club, in High Cross Newport where the accountants also held a cheese and wine, a horse racing evening and much more.
Phil Bessant, Managing Director of the practice, said: "We went way beyond our initial target of raising £5,000 so we set the bar a little higher at £50,000 and then moved to £100,000. We held regular events with a loyal group of clients."
"Everyone in the office has been involved in the effort to raise money for St David's Hospice Care. I am delighted at the sum of money we have managed to collect and would like to thank all the people who have supported our effort over the years. St David's Hospice is a very special place, the services are extremely valued by the Community it serves and it's a charity very close to us which we are passionate to support."
Emma Saysell, of St David's Hospice Care, said: "Phil Bessant and his marvellous staff have worked tirelessly over the years in their efforts to raise vital funds for St David's Hospice Care in so many ways. We're so grateful as all the money raised by Phil and his team which enables us continue to fund the vital work that we deliver free of charge to patients and their families."
What's next for the team at Phil Bessant Accountants?
Having hit the £100,000 milestone, the team this recently took a group of supporters to The Rock Pub in Blackwood where they celebrated Beaujolais Day whilst once again raising funds. Phil Bessant and the team wish to continue their fundraising for St David's Hospice Care. Phil said, "We love the way our friends, family and clients come together to help us raise this money for such an amazing cause."
Before they plan the events for 2025 and beyond, they are planning a celebration party for achieving such a wonderful milestone where they will be inviting people who have supported them along the way. The event will be held at the Fugitives Club in High Cross, Rogerstone for a relaxed evening. More details to be published soon, watch this space.

Swan
RESCUE

The Grand Tour

Gloucester, The Knap, Tredegar Park and Amroth

Long gone are the days when we could look forward to a pause in calls to rescue a swan in distress. Autumn rescues are dominated by juveniles getting into difficulties as they attempt to leave their parent's territory. This call was received from a member of staff at Tredegar Park (National Trust) as we crossed the Severn Bridge on route to de-tackle an adult swan in Gloucester Docks, from which, for obvious reasons, there was no turning back.

The problem to which our attention was being drawn is a fairly common occurrence – a juvenile swan was stuck behind the railings at the southern end of the lake, trying and obviously failing to return to the water. 'Well, isn't there anyone else who can help?' Shock, horror...No! But the area will be visited as soon as possible… the following morning.

It is important to note the day had already been seriously compromised as a result of a call at 0840 hrs from The Knap at Barry made by a very committed staff member from the Vale of Glamorgan Council who had noticed an ailing swan with what turned out to be an ear infection, and which we had collected and bedded down at HQ.

So, all that was Friday. As promised, early on Saturday morning, with the intention of hospitalising the previous day's casualty at a sanctuary at Amroth, and so loading the swan into the car a visit was paid to Jamaica Walk, i.e. on the landward side of the railings at the end of Tredegar Park Lake. A thorough search was carried out; the only sign of a juvenile swan was a small number of feathers scattered across the dingle which abuts the outfall from the lake. That was searched thoroughly, but nothing further was found. Neither here nor more widely. There seemed little option but to conclude the swan had managed to find another way out. Time therefore to set off for Amroth with the poorly bird from The Knap.

A comfort stop was needed which was provided by calling at Cardiff West Services. In that brief interval two calls were received in quick succession from participants in the Tredegar Park Park Run; they had spotted the missing swan hard up against the railings, and deeply 'submerged' in brambles and other vegetation. There was even a question as to whether or not the swan was still alive. Immediate call for a high-speed return to Tredegar Park where one of the callers, Emma, to whom we shall for ever be grateful, was waiting to help.

Over the years, we have learnt to carry not only tools to deal with embedded fishhooks but also a selection of pruning implements; these were absolutely essential for getting the swan out of his predicament. All things considered he wasn't in bad shape except for a significant wound to his tail. The earlier discovery of feathers now made sense; the swan had been attacked by a dog, which, quite clearly had not been under control.

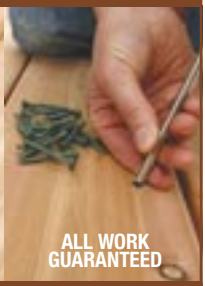

And so, now with two ailing swans on board, we set off, at the second attempt to provide treatment for both casualties. Mercifully, the injury to the swan which is the main character in this story was not as bad as it might so easily have been. He was considered fit for release and was given a new home when he was released onto The Fendrod Lake on the outskirts of Swansea almost three weeks to the day following his failed attempt to leave Tredegar Park.
